

Yong's New Computer

Yong is an outstanding, intelligent young man. He likes to draw in his spare time when he's not listening to Green Day and playing computer games, so it was no surprise when he told his wish granters he wanted a new computer for his one, true wish!

He was excited with the idea that once he got his new computer, he would be able to work on web design, one of his favorite hobbies! He knew he would have unlimited fun while playing his favorite computer games and learning even more about computers!

Yong's wish granters were enthusiastic in planning the perfect wish they knew would bring tons of joy and hours of fun to Yong. After seeing Yong's natural art talent and abilities, they knew Yong was very special. Since he was no ordinary boy, so this could not be an ordinary computer; it needed a touch of creativity.

Yong's wish granters knew they could definitely make Yong's computer wish special. They brainstormed and decided they were going to create a "Cyber Play Land" that Yong could explore. The laptop included a video CD maker and print workshop. His computer also came well-equipped with Microsoft sidewinder Freestyle Pro, Moto Cross Madness, Pro BMX, Serious Sam, TyCoon and Evil Dead Regeneration, just to name a few! The computer came complete with a CD Set, hands free headset with a microphone, a new computer desk and a sleek, leather case. Yong was now ready to enter his cyber play land!

Yong's wish was finished off with a party at his home to show off his new computer. Yong was overjoyed at the sight of his new computer and couldn't wait to get started. He will remember his special wish experience every time he logs-on!
